

A group of Bhutan delegation led by Major Tshulthrim Dorji and other six senior officers from Royal Bhutan Police took part in a short training course during 1-5 February 2010 at the Thailand Department of Corrections.

The training course provided an opportunity for the Bhutan delegation to visit the Department of Corrections Headquarters and to attend lectures on Thai correctional management system. Study visits at various types of prison/ correctional institution in Thailand were organised in the training programme for making better understanding on prison management and treatment of prisoners. This training course is deemed to end up with remarkable success and impression.
